Which programs are offered through the scholarship?

Criminal Justice

The Criminal Justice program helps current and aspiring Law Enforcement professionals build on the skills they need to expand their professional and education opportunities. The program is structured to support your transfer to a four-year degree program. Students who have completed a state approved Peace Officer Training program are eligible to receive up to 33 credits toward the Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement degree and students who have completed a state approved corrections academy are eligible to receive up to 19 credits toward the criminal justice degree. Both of these options would allow you to finish your degree in as little as 18 months. Course topics include Criminal Investigation, Crisis Intervention, and Homeland Security.

Associate of Arts

The Associate of Arts (AA) degree is a two-year program which parallels the first two years of a Bachelor of Arts degree at most four-year institutions. As a student in the program, you'll be able to choose electives that align with your interests and career goals. Depending upon your selection, you can progress into baccalaureate programs such as psychology, sociology, English, history, fine arts, communications, or other fields in the arts disciplines, many times as a junior.

Business Management

Choose Eastern Gateway's Business Management program and you can do more than build a strong understanding of business theory. You can develop the practical knowledge and skills important for success in various business-related roles: finance, marketing, operations, communications, accounting, and human resources, just to name a few. Course topics include Interpersonal Communications, Organizational Behavior, and Principles of Management.

Early Childhood Education

An associate degree in Early Childhood Education is your first step in building a foundation for success in the world of childcare. You will focus on important topics in early childhood, such as development, learning assessment and instructional strategy. (Because practitioners work with children, a background check is required for licensure. This cost is not included in the Free College Benefit.)
